

Claim for Funeral Benefit

Funeral Benefit

A Funeral Benefit is a one-off payment made by the Department of Veterans' Affairs (DVA) to assist toward the funeral costs of veterans and, in some cases, their dependants. The benefit is payment for the cost associated in the burial or cremation of remains.

A Funeral Benefit payment comprises:

- up to $2000 towards the funeral costs of an eligible veteran or dependant who died on or after 1 July 2007;
- up to $1000 towards the funeral costs of an eligible veteran or dependant who died on or before 30 June 2007;
- up to $572 towards the funeral costs of an eligible veteran who died on or before 30 June 2004.

Death of a veteran

A Funeral Benefit may be granted in respect of funeral expenses of an Australian veteran who, at the time of death, was:

- receiving a Special Rate (T&PI) Pension; or
- receiving an Extreme Disablement Adjustment (EDA); or
- an ex-prisoner of war; or
- receiving an increased rate of pension for a double amputation.

Where the veteran was in one of these categories, DVA will arrange payment of a Funeral Benefit direct to the estate of the deceased veteran. However, it may be necessary for a claim to be lodged, e.g. if the late veteran was an ex-prisoner of war and DVA was unaware of the veteran's service.

A Funeral Benefit may be granted to a person responsible for the funeral expenses in respect of:

- a veteran or former member of the forces:
 - who died in needy circumstances; or
 - whose treatment was provided under DVA health care arrangements through the Veterans' Entitlements Act 1986 (VEA) or the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 2004 (MRCA) and who died:
 - in an institution; or
 - travelling to or from an institution; or
 - after discharge from an institution in which the veteran was being treated for a terminal illness; or
 - while being treated for a terminal illness at home;
- OR
- a veteran or former member of the forces who served before 1 July 2004 and whose death was war-caused or defence-caused.

An institution includes: a hospital, a nursing home or hostel, a medical centre, an outpatient clinic, or a rehabilitation or training establishment.

Transportation of body costs

Where a Funeral Benefit for a deceased veteran is payable and a charge was made by the funeral director expressly for transporting the body of the deceased veteran from the place where the veteran died to the place where the veteran ordinarily resided immediately before the veteran died, a sum equal to a reasonable charge for transporting the body of the veteran may be paid. Eligibility for this additional payment is dependent on:

- the veteran's death being at a place other than his or her ordinary place of residence; and
- the veteran being absent from his or her ordinary place of residence for the purpose of obtaining medical treatment and that treatment was approved by the Repatriation Commission or the Military Rehabilitation and Compensation Commission; and
- a charge for transporting the body being expressly made.

The additional payment for charges for transporting the veteran's body does not apply to a charge for transporting the body within the metropolitan area or outside Australia.

Death of a dependant

A Funeral Benefit may also be payable in respect of the funeral of a dependant (War Widow/Widower), wholly dependent partner, child under 16 or full-time student under 25 of a deceased member where the dependant died in severe financial need.

British or allied veteran

A Funeral Benefit is not available in respect of the death of a British or allied veteran.

For a Funeral Benefit to be payable, this application must be lodged within 12 months of the death or within 12 months from the date death was determined to be war-caused. The addresses are on the back of this page.
