In some instances two community nursing providers will provide services to the same entitled person in the same 28 day claim period. This will flag with Medicare Australia as a way to monitor appropriate servicing levels, and the provider whose claim is processed second will have their claim rejected.

A community nursing provider with a rejected claim will need to submit this form to DVA advising the reason for the provision of services in the same claim period as another provider. This request for payment will be assessed and DVA will advise you of the outcome.
